JEPPE HEIN

(b. 1974, Copenhagen, Denmark)

Partnership with Children is proud to partner with mental health advocates who embody the mission of strengthening the emotional, social, and cognitive skills of New York City school children.

Internationally renowned artist Jeppe Hein, is one of the advocates who frequently partners with PWC in and out of the classroom to brighten some of our students' lives through visual arts programming.

“ Life begins with an inhale and ends with an exhale. In-between we all breathe and live different lives. And yet, each breath keeps us together, connected, sharing the same air. ”

Jepppe Hein

Jeppes blend of minimalistic and conceptual art provides a graspable outlet for students to latch onto as they express themselves and simply, breathe. Following an episode of severe burnout, Jeppe embarked on a mental health journey incorporating the healing arts into his regimen. The result of the Danish artists introspection are his Breathe with Me projects, that have been featured at the UN Headquarters and Royal College of Physicians, inviting participants to paint dazzling vertical blue lines upon canvas while simultaneously practicing conscious breathing.

On a recent school visit, Jeppe led the students at Riverdale Avenue Community School in Brownsville, Brooklyn, in an interactive arts session. By painting faces mirroring their emotions and writing out their feelings, students were treated to a world-class breathing exercise from the comfort of their classroom seats.
